

February 2023

Features release and Magento version 1 end of life announcement.

Charts moved from home page

The sales charts on the home page have been moved to the Reports menu to improve page load time.

New report: Sales daily summary

This report aggregates the values seen in Sales > Sold at a daily level converting to your "Home currency". Channel, Fulfilment location and the date range is selectable. It can be found in Reports > Sales daily summary.

Bulk update tools introduced

Sometimes you may wish to update SurfSeller with data you've updated or received from elsewhere. A new tool has been introduced to make it easier to update large numbers of items.

To start, choose Products > Bulk update tool.

The first tool covers prices, price ranges and the active status, much like Products > Prices. It's anticipated further tools will be added in the future, but for now choose this on the initial selection page.

Next choose the channel(s) you wish to download and click (Next). You can skip this step and upload data if you already have it

The chosen data is displayed. If this as you want it click (Download).

Once your data is ready EITHER paste in to the box provided or click (Browse...) and select a file to upload. Both options require tab delimited data. Click (Next).

Review you changes and click (Save) to update SurfSeller.

Buying price synchronised to LiveShip

For customers using SurfSeller with LiveShip, the Buying Price as entered on the SurfSeller product page is passed to LiveShip and will be the default buying price used when creating purchase orders.

Magento version 1 integration reached end of life

The SurfSeller Magento version 1 integration now deprecated and is planned for permanent removal in Q4/2023. Magento 2 is now well established and widely adopted and our efforts will be directed to enhancing the Magento 2 integration.

We're always improving our products and we hope you find these changes useful. Please let us have your feedback and ideas at care@shopcute.com